Prior to that moment, you shall be considered by us as a Prospect Client.

20.2. If you cannot satisfactorily provide your Registration Data, you may not be able to open an Account with us or may have to close your existing Account. Even if you do provide your Registration Data, the Company still reserves the right to reject you. It is further understood that the Company reserves the right to impose additional due diligence requirements to accept Clients residing in certain countries under a risk-based approach to this process.

20.3. The Agreement will take effect and commence upon the receipt by the Client of the confirmation sent by the Company informing the Client that he has been accepted as the Company's Customer.

PART THREE: SECURITIES DEALING SERVICES

29. Quotes

29.1. The Trading Platform will display an indicative price to Buy or Sell a particular Security. This is called a "quote". A quote is not an offer by us to Buy or Sell any products.

29.2. All quotes displayed on our Trading Platform are only indicative. The quotes may not necessarily be sourced from the same exchange on which an Order will be executed. We obtain the quotes of the Securities from third-party provider(s), who sources their feeds from exchanges and other venues. This means that our quotes might be different from the prices provided by other brokers or trading platforms, or the current prices on any exchanges, markets or other venues.

29.3. If the prices on a market, exchange or trading platform are distorted, for example during a short-term price spike, or during pre-market, post-market, or intra-day auction periods, we may reflect similar prices in our quotes.

29.4. Quotes are updated on a real time basis which means that the price may change between the time that you place your Order, and the time that your Order is executed. Once your Order has been executed, we will inform you of the price at which your Order was executed.

29.5. You undertake and agree not to use the prices quoted on the Trading Platform for any purpose other than for your own trading and you agree not to communicate our prices to any other person under any circumstances.

30. Placing an Order to Deal

30.1. You can place an Order by using the Trading Platform to purchase or to sell or generally trade in Securities, which may include a Market Order, Limit Order, Stop Order or such other order as may be available on the Trading Platform.

30.2. We do not accept Orders for fractional shares; you are required to Buy or Sell a whole number of shares, rather than transact according to monetary amounts.

30.3. You are not permitted to Short Sell. This means that you cannot give us an instruction to sell a Security that you do not own at the time of the sale and that is not held on your Account.

30.4. We will treat each Order you place for the Securities Dealing Services as an offer to purchase services subject to this Agreement. We then we may accept your Order for execution.

30.5. We will be under no obligation to provide quotes for, or accept, execute or cancel, all or any part of an Order that you have requested through the Trading Platform.

30.6. We reserve the right to reject or cancel any Order. If we have accepted your Order, we are not required to execute every Order. We provide below a non-exhaustive list of examples of situations where we may not accept or execute an Order, or cancel an Order:

- a. the quote was invalid or contained an error when your Order was given;
- b. we are unable to execute your Order due to restrictions with Execution Brokers or other third-parties, trading venues;
- c. when you made the Order, the number of units in respect of which the Order was made was either smaller than the minimum permitted amount or greater than the maximum permitted, as specified on our Website, from time to time;
- d. when you close part but not all of an open Order and the part of the Order that you close and/or the part that would remain open if we accepted your Order are smaller than the minimum permitted amount, from time to time;
- e. if we reasonably believe the security of your Account is at risk, or if we're concerned about unauthorised or fraudulent use of your Account. This might happen if we think someone is using your Account without your permission;
- f. if you do not have enough money in your Account to cover the maximum amount of loss associated with your Order, plus any fees and other charges;

- g. if we reasonably believe that there is a Manifest Error with your Order. For example, if you have placed an Order that is unusually large and you have never done this before;
- h. if the Order you have requested is unusual or for exaggerated volumes;
- i. there is a change in applicable law, which means that the Order is no longer in compliance with applicable law;
- j. there is a corporate action;
- k. due to unusual market conditions;
- l. an Event of Default occurred in respect of you;
- m. a Force Majeure Event occurred. We explain what a Force Majeure Event is in clause 42;

30.7. If we take any of the actions in clause 30.6, we will make all reasonable efforts to facilitate sales and notify you in writing unless prevented from doing so by law. If we charged you a fee as part of the Order, we will refund that money back into your Account. If there were no fees or charges, then you will not receive a refund.

30.8. We will not be responsible for any losses you incur as a result of any actions or inactions taken by us in accordance with the terms within clause 30.6.

30.9. FXGlobe may temporarily or permanently, at any time and at its sole reasonable discretion, place restrictions and other limits on the minimum and/or maximum size of any Order or Position in any investment. Such limits will be imposed as a result of considerations including but not limited to market conditions and/or an assessment of the Company's risk and/or compliance departments. In such an event, we will exercise our best efforts to inform you as timely as possible by email or through our Trading Platform. Nevertheless, it is your responsibility to monitor your Account and be informed about the current size limits imposed on Orders that you may want to execute.

30.10. Orders received from your Account shall be treated as authorised by you, and Company will rely on any information or instructions transmitted using your Account Credentials without further investigation. Please be careful when placing Orders. If you place Orders by accident or in error (e.g. if you place multiple identical Orders) we will assume that you did this on purpose and your Orders will be executed without checking this with you. You are responsible for all transactions effected on your Account via the Trading Platform. The Company bears no responsibility for transmissions for inaccurate or unreceived transmissions and may execute any Transaction on the terms actually received by us.

30.11. You may request to cancel or amend an Order at any time prior to our executing such an Order. We shall be entitled, but not obliged, to accept such a request.

30.12. If the market on which your Security is traded is suspended, you will not be able to place any sell Orders on those Securities, and any sell Orders which you have already placed on those Securities, will not be able to be executed until the market recommences trading. We cannot guarantee that your Order will be executed immediately when the market recommences trading, and we may be required to wait until there is enough demand to buy your Security.

30.13. If you believe you have an Order or trade that is not showing on the Trading Platform or have any other issue or problem with any Order or trade, you should contact us immediately.

30.14. Each Order that you make is binding on you even and you must pay any sums due on any Transaction immediately once the Transaction has been entered into. You can place an Order as long as the value of the Order does not exceed 95% of the available funds in your account. Regardless of this, you can still end up with a negative balance on your account in cases of sudden market volatility, where the price would drastically change between the time of giving the order and its execution. Should such a change occur, and your obligation to settle exceeds your available funds, you will remain liable to settle the deal in full.

30.15. Based on the amount of money you have in your Trading Account; we retain the right to limit the amount and total number of pending Orders that you may wish to open or currently maintain on the Trading Platform.

31. Execution of Orders

31.1. Orders may be executed after acceptance by us. This is called a “trade”. In some situations, we may provide a partial fill of an Order as an alternative to outright rejection. If an Order can only be executed partially due to various reasons or applicable limits, we are authorized but not obliged to execute that part of the Transaction.

31.2. We shall not execute an Order if there are not sufficient funds at the point of execution even if accepted, and it is your sole responsibility to make sure that you have sufficient funds in your Account for the execution of your Order until it is confirmed or cancelled.

31.3. You acknowledge and agree that each Transaction conducted on the Trading Platform comprises, first, an Order by you to us and our subsequent acceptance and execution of your Order. A Transaction will be deemed to have been completed only when your Order has been executed by us. The execution of an Order will be evidenced by our confirmation of its terms to you and its completion.

31.4. When you submit an Order on the Trading Platform, you agree that you are dealing with us as Matched Principal, off-exchange and are not dealing 'on Exchange'. When receiving your Orders and after accepting them, we transmit them for execution to a third-party Execution Broker/Prime Broker on STP for execution on an Execution Venue. (Straight Through Processing).

31.5. You acknowledge that the Company does not guarantee the fixed price but rather will provide the best available market price. This includes where you have placed a Limit Order and/or Stop Order. The execution price may differ, due to price movement and/or difference between the market price of an Execution Venue and the one quoted on the Trading Platform. When this happens, your Order will be executed at the next available price and in accordance with our Order Execution Policy.

31.6. Your Orders will be executed as soon as reasonably practicable, but sometimes there may be a delay between the time that your Order is received and the time that it is able to be executed. Where a delay occurs, there may be a difference between the market price of the Securities that you were quoted and the market price on the exchange, which may or may not be to your benefit. The exchange is not required to accept your Order and is not required to execute your Order at the price that you were quoted.

31.7. We are not liable for any losses, costs or expenses that you suffer as a result of any delay or change in market conditions either before an Order is executed or before a Transaction settles.

31.8. Orders will be executed when received during Trading Hours. Different Securities have different Trading Hours. Where you place an Order outside of Trading Hours, the availability of the different functionalities which we may provide as part of our services, including instructions which you may give in respect of a trade, may be delayed or may not be available.

31.9. We do not execute Order outside Trading Hours (for example, during the weekend or at off-market hours). Similarly, if you place an Order during a time in which the market is suspended (for example, due to market conditions), or the market was open but your Order is triggered shortly following a suspension, then the applicable Order you have placed will be executed as soon as is reasonable under the circumstances when market liquidity conditions are reasonable.

31.10. If you invest in a Security, the Company shall use available funds in your Account to cover applicable transaction tax, governmental or administrative levy, fee, or other liabilities. Transaction tax is the collective term referring to all taxes and levies charged in transactions in financial instruments in all applicable jurisdictions. Certain jurisdictions may obligate you to pay a certain amount (usually a fixed percentage) of transaction tax or stamp duty. The existence and amount of tax depend on the specific type of financial instrument and the applicable national legislation. The Company will, on a best-effort basis, withhold those transaction taxes from you, and the relevant funds will be due to the respective authorities and not to you.

31.11. In certain circumstances, we reserve the right to implement corrective measures pertaining to a trade, which may include modifying the Transaction or declaring the Transaction null and void. Notification of any errors shall be provided through the dissemination of information on our Trading Platform, inclusive of the corrective actions proposed to be undertaken.

32. Settlement

32.1. Your Security investments will be settled in accordance with the standard settlement practices and/or market rules of the relevant exchanges. Transactions in US and European Shares currently settle on a T+2 basis. Most worldwide shares settle on either a T+2 or a T+3 basis. The settlement date cannot be changed once you enter into a Transaction. Your Statement will show the trade date, not the settlement date.

32.2. The Security will be available for sale on your Account prior to settlement of the Transaction and your Account will reflect this. Should the Transaction fail to settle, we may reverse the Transaction, return any fees, charges and taxes for that Transaction and amend your Account to reflect the same.

32.3. In the event of our insolvency, you may not have title to the Securities that you have bought on the Trading Platform, where settlement has not yet occurred. This is the case even if the Securities which you have bought are shown as available in your Account. In these circumstances, you will be entitled to the amount that you paid for the Securities, which will form part of your Client Money. Please refer to clause 43 for more information on Client Money.

33. Custody

33.1. You instruct us to arrange for any Securities which you have bought on our Trading Platform to be held on your behalf until we receive further instruction from you to sell that Security. This is called "custody" and means that FXGlobe will be your "custodian". FXGlobe will hold the Securities on your behalf in accordance with the applicable law and will arrange for the custody services to be provided by a third-party (this is called a "sub-custodian"). We are not liable for any acts, omissions, insolvency or dissolution of the sub-custodian, unless any losses which you incur have been caused by our fraud, wilful default or gross negligence by the Company. We will exercise reasonable skill and care in the selection, appointment, and periodic review of such third-parties.

33.2. You hereby authorize us to hold your investments in safe custody and appoint a sub-custodian to do so, to transfer Securities from your Account to meet sales effected for your Account, to accept offers, or undertake other matters in relation to your investments covered by this Agreement.

33.3. Securities purchased by us on your behalf will be registered in the same account as those of other clients with a third-party Custodian under the name of the Company, on behalf of our clients (omnibus account). Detailed records of all your Securities held by us will be kept at all times to show that your Securities are held on your behalf, for your benefit and do not belong to the custodian or any sub-custodian.

33.4. You authorise us and any sub-custodian to hold or transfer your Securities to a Securities depository, clearing or settlement. Securities that cannot be settled through a central Securities depository system may be held overseas by a third-party (including custodian, sub-custodian, registrar, bank, intermediate broker, or settlement agent) in the name of FXGlobe or a third-party nominee.

33.5. In the event of the insolvency or any other analogous proceedings in relation to that third-party, we may only have an unsecured claim against the third-party on behalf of the Client, and the Client will be exposed to the risk that the money received by us from the third-party is insufficient to satisfy the claims of the Client with claims in respect of the relevant Account. We do not accept any liability or responsibility for any resulting losses.

33.6. This also means that if we or our third-party nominee becomes insolvent, your Securities may not be immediately identifiable by way of separate certificates, or equivalent electronic entries on the register. Instead, any claim will be against the omnibus account, and therefore additional time may be needed to identify the assets held for specific clients. As there may be delays in identifying individual assets, there may be an increased risk of losing money. In addition, if there is an unreconciled shortfall caused by the default of a custodian, you may share proportionately in that shortfall.

33.7. You agree that because of the nature of applicable laws or market practices in certain overseas jurisdictions, we may decide that it is in your best interest for your Securities held with us to be registered or recorded in our name or in the name of the sub-custodian, the nominee or any applicable delegate. You should note that when we arrange for a third-party to hold your Securities overseas there may be different legal and regulatory requirements than those applied in Cyprus.

33.8. Where you maintained specific Securities in your Account which cannot or you are not able to settle (i.e. Security became illiquid) and you did not and/or have not instructed us on the treatment of these Securities, while we have taken all reasonable steps to contact you on how to treat these securities, unsuccessfully, you agree that we may take such steps, in accordance with applicable regulatory requirements, and adjust for these securities.

34. Stop Out

34.1. If the equity level in your account drops below 95%, we will automatically sell some or all of your positions to prevent your Account from going into a negative balance (“Stop Out”). This is done to protect you from losing more money than you have in your Account. The Company may change the Stop Out percentage at its own discretion.

34.2. The Stop Out policy cannot guarantee the prevention of negative balances. Unforeseeable circumstances beyond the Company's control may lead to negative balances, for example if market prices change significantly between order placement and execution (market volatility). If this happens, you're still responsible for settling the negative balance in your Account.

34.3. If your trades are at risk of being closed due to the Stop Out, you can avoid this by adding more funds to your account. We advise you to regularly check your equity, margin levels, and our Stop Out policy to avoid unexpected closures.

34.4. We do not issue margin calls, which are notifications to add more funds to your Account to prevent positions from being automatically closed. We won't be responsible for not contacting you about this.

34.5. When your account triggers the Stop Out, we will close trades either immediately at the current market price if markets are open, or at the first available rate when markets reopen if they are closed.

35. Corporate Actions

35.1. Corporate actions are the declarations by the issuer of the Security of the terms of any of the following but not limited to share consolidations, a share buy-back, free distribution of shares to existing shareholders, dividend distributions, share splits, spin-offs, mergers & acquisitions, name changes and rebranding, delistings, spillovers and liquidation/bankruptcy.

35.2. Results of such corporate action will be duly reflected to your Account as soon as practicable after we have received confirmation from our custodian(s) that the corporate action has been completed and of its results.

35.3. We will exercise our best efforts to inform you of such corporate actions, we are not obliged and we cannot guarantee the timely delivery or correctness of any information provided by us with regards to such corporate actions. We are not obliged to, but we may arrange for your participation in such corporate actions. We do not accept any liability for any actual or potential loss you may suffer if we are unable to facilitate your participation in any corporate action.

35.4. In the case of corporate actions, you understand and accept that the terms and delivery date of the corporate action can be subject to immediate change without notice due to changes made by the issuer or any other entity involved in the corporate action. You accept that any corporate action can be amended, withdrawn, or cancelled at any time. You acknowledge and accept that these changes are beyond the control of FXGlobe, who will not be liable for any financial losses, perceived or actual, that you may suffer as a result of these delays.

35.5. If a corporate action impacts a Security in your Account, we will use reasonable endeavours to adjust the Securities in your Account in a way that is fair and which aligns with market practice, depending on the circumstances of each event and according to our sole discretion. We are not obliged to notify you of, nor act upon, any corporate action relating to a particular investment, including but not limited to dividends and company insolvency. Adjustments may include changing the price or quantity of Securities in your Account, to reflect the economic equivalent of such rights.

35.6. In the event of a merger, spin-off, or any corporate action that offers a stock distribution, we will exercise our best efforts to provide you with the new stock. However, this may not be possible in certain situations, for instance, when the new stock is unavailable on our Trading Platform or due to technical constraints. You consent that in such situations, the relevant corporate action will be paid in cash equivalent to your Account.

35.7. Where applicable, we reserve the right to sell any existing shareholdings at the market price as soon as reasonably possible following a corporate action in order to make any required adjustments.

35.8. If you are holding Securities, such as shares, which grant you the right to receive a dividend or interest payment from a company, provided that you have held such shares prior to and on the relevant 'ex-dividend' date, we will pay this money into your Account on receipt by us. We may deduct from this payment any applicable tax. As we will hold your Securities in omnibus accounts, you may receive dividends or distributions net of applicable taxes which has been paid or withheld at rates that are less beneficial than those that might apply if the Securities were held in your own name or not pooled. Dividends distributions of US shares carry a 30% withholding tax. We will deduct this tax when making adjustments to your shareholdings.

35.9. We will arrange the exercise of any voting rights through proxy voting. This means we will act as your representative, whereby you delegate and relinquish your vote to us. Where applicable, we will cast votes on your behalf without consulting you.

35.10. If, after your Account has been closed and deactivated, you become entitled to a stock dividend or other corporate action, you expressly instruct us to convert that entitlement to cash (for example, by selling a stock dividend) at the first available opportunity and to return the full proceeds to any of the methods that you used for deposits. In the event that none of the methods is active, we will exercise our best efforts to notify you and obtain information on an alternative method to return the relevant proceeds.

36. Fees And Costs

36.1. Fees, commissions, interest and other charges will be payable by you in relation to your use and access to the Trading Platform. These charges will reduce your trading net profits (if any) or increase your losses.

36.2. Fees payable may include a Trading Commission for each Order we arrange to be executed for you and a currency conversion fee for all Transactions on Securities denominated in a currency different to the currency of the Trading Account.

36.3. You acknowledge that all amounts due to us shall be deducted from your Account.

36.4. Charges due to us shall be immediately payable upon our demand. Such charges shall be paid by you as stated on Confirmations. These charges may be set off against any payment due from us to you. You agree that any other obligation and liability towards us is subject to unilateral set-off from your side, dating back to the beginning of our contractual relationship.

36.5. For more information about fees and charges, please refer to the Fees and Charges section of our Website. We may update our fees and other charges from time to time with reasonable notice to you. It is your responsibility to keep up to date with any changes.

36.6. You agree that the Company will not be liable for any additional fees charged by any bank, credit card provider, or other third-party financial services provider, which you use for the transfer of funds to and from us.

call this the "Account Information"). You can generate daily, monthly and yearly reports, as well as a reports of each executed trade. Designated Client Money is held in our name on your behalf in a client bank account (denoted as "clients' accounts"), segregated from the assets of the Company.

44.4. We will carry out reconciliations of records and Client Money with the records and accounts of the money we hold in designated Client Money accounts regularly, and any required transfer to or from the Client Money accounts will take place by the close of business on the day that the reconciliation is performed, to protect our Clients as well as ours interests.

44.5. We shall introduce adequate organizational arrangements to minimize the risks of the loss or diminution of Client money, as a result of misuse, fraud, poor administration, inadequate recordkeeping or negligence.

44.6. When considering which third-party bank to use to hold Client Money, we will exercise all due skill, care and diligence and will periodically (at least annually) review the adequacy and appropriateness of any bank where your money is deposited and of the arrangements for holding your money.

44.7. You hereby agree that your funds will be safeguarded in accordance with the requirements of the CySEC Directive DI87-01. Hence you acknowledge that your funds will be safeguarded in either of the following:

- a. Approved Banks which the Company collaborates with and provided for the relevant denomination of "Clients Accounts".
- b. third-party to whom the Company will pass Client Money may hold it in an omnibus account also, third-parties which are involved in your transactions (e.g. intermediary broker, other counterparty for the settlement of your transaction), to hold your funds as part of the transaction. In such cases again your funds will be kept in omnibus accounts, however, may not be feasible at all times so individually separate your clients' funds from funds of other clients.
- c. Third Parties outside of the EEA – We may hold Cash on Your behalf in a bank outside of the EEA. The legal and regulatory regime applying to any such bank will be different from that of the Republic of Cyprus (for instance, in certain jurisdictions, the client designated bank account concept is not recognised). In the event of the insolvency, introduction of capital control restrictions, bailing in or any other analogous proceedings in relation to that bank, Your Cash may be treated differently from the treatment which would apply if the Cash was held with a bank in the Republic of Cyprus or the EEA.

The Company does not accept any liability or responsibility for any resulting losses. The Company will not be liable for the solvency, acts or omissions of any third-party referred to in this Section. In the event of the insolvency or any other analogous proceedings in relation to that third-party, the Company may only have an unsecured claim against the third-party on behalf of the client, and the client will be exposed to risk that the money received by the Company from the third-party is insufficient to satisfy the claims of the client with claims in respect of the relevant account.

44.8. It is understood that the Company may keep merchant accounts in its name with payment service providers used to settle payment transactions of its Clients. However, for the avoidance of doubt, it is noted that such merchant accounts are not used for safekeeping of Client Money but only to effect settlements of payment transactions.

45. Deposit Requirements

45.1. Deposits into your Trading Account can be made by bank transfer or any other method of payment accepted by the Company, to a bank account, or other location, as we may notify you from time to time. We have the right to restrict the available methods at any point in time.

45.2. Any deposits that are not made in your Account base currency, shall be converted into the Account currency. The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Client shall undertake all risks deriving from any such conversion and in particular, without prejudice to the generality of the above, the risk of loss which may be incurred as a result of fluctuations in exchange rates.

45.3. You should transfer money to your Account from accounts in your own name. Deposits from third-parties are not permitted and will not be processed. By agreeing to make a deposit, you confirm you are depositing your own funds for your own trading with FXGlobe.

45.4. The Company shall have the right to request the Client at any time any documentation to confirm the source of funds deposited into the Trading Account. The Company shall have the right to reject a deposit of the Client if the Company is not duly satisfied as to the legality of the source of funds and resend them back to the sender.

45.5. In the event that funds were transferred to your Trading Account from a source other than an account registered in your name or of which you are not a beneficiary, we reserve the right to return the funds to their origin as well as to void all trading Transactions executed with these funds. It is agreed and understood that the Company will not accept third-party, corporate or anonymous payments in the Trading Account.

45.6. If the funds sent by the Client are not deposited into the Client's Trading Account within the applicable timeframe, the Client shall notify the Company who will investigate the matter. The Client understands and agrees that in order to perform the investigation the Client shall have to provide the Company with the requested documents and certificates.

22.6. In certain circumstances you may encounter a limit and restrictions on your Deposit for AML, Compliance, suspected fraud or other reasons. Such Deposit limits and restrictions may vary between Trading Accounts and may be based upon a number of factors, including but not limited to, country of residence, remittance source, payment methods used, frequency and amounts of monetary transactions etc. Therefore, with regards to your Trading Account's deposit limits and restrictions, you acknowledge that you should explicitly request the relevant information in writing via the Contact Us page on our Website. In case you encounter a limit on deposits, you should consider reducing the total number of your pending Orders (clause 30.15).

46. Withdrawals

46.1. Submitting a withdrawal request can be done by logging into your Account on the Website, subject to our minimum remittance amount.

46.2. We require that Withdrawals to you go to an account in your name at all times and may request evidence from you that such an account is in your name and ownership before effecting such payment. No payments to third parties from your Account shall be allowed.

46.3. Upon the Company receiving an instruction from the Client to withdraw funds from the Trading Account, the Company shall pay the said amount, if the following requirements are met:

- a. the withdrawal instruction includes all required information;
- b. the instruction is to make a payment to the originating account from which the money was originally deposited in the Trading Account;
- c. the account where the transfer is to be made belongs to the Client; we may request evidence from you that such an account is in your name and ownership before effecting such payment; and
- d. there is no Force Majeure event which prohibits the Company from effecting the withdrawal.

46.4. We reserve the right to decline or cancel a withdrawal request with a specific payment method and suggest another payment method for which you will need to proceed with a new withdrawal request and supply further supporting documentation, upon request, for our internal checks and proper processing of the withdrawal request.

46.5. Subject to the conditions of clause 46.7 below and the CySEC requirements, your withdrawal request will be processed on the same day it has been received, unless the withdrawal request is received outside working hours, then it will be processed on the following working day accordingly. Please note, however, that withdrawals may be subject to additional processing time depending on the procedures of the third-party remitters, the banking institutions and the jurisdictions in question. Following receipt of a withdrawal instruction, the request is processed and the requested withdrawal amount will be deducted from your Trading Account balance.

46.6. You shall have the right to withdraw money from your Account up to the amount of the Free Funds. The withdrawal of any portion of the Free Funds will be executed via the same method, in the same currency and to the same source as the one we originally received the funds from. There are certain situations where an exception might be made for a withdrawal to be executed to a payment method different from the one used for a deposit, but those are subject to approval by us.

46.7. You might not be able to withdraw the proceeds of the sale of shares from your account unless and until the sale has settled on the settlement date (usually at T+2). Proceeds of sale of shares held in your Account can be used before the settlement date for the purposes of buying more shares.

46.8. You consent that whenever you confirm a withdrawal, FXGlobe will use a specific payment intermediary or bank to process your withdrawal as per your instruction. The payment intermediary or bank may hold the withdrawal amount while the payment transaction is being processed, which means that the withdrawal amount will no longer be considered Client Money.

46.9. We may request additional information and/or documentation to verify the legitimacy of any Withdrawal request. We may delay or refuse to process a Withdrawal where we have reasonable grounds relating but not limited to: a. the authenticity of the instruction provided; b. the suspected unauthorized or fraudulent use of your Account; c. the validity of the nominated bank account supplied; or d. legal or regulatory requirements. You hereby agree that under such circumstances, there may be a delay in the processing of your Withdrawal.

46.10. You hereby undertake to inform us every time a card used by you to make deposits to your Account has been blocked, deactivated or otherwise suspended. Save for cases where a card has expired, we shall not be liable if we should satisfy your withdrawal request by way of paying money back to a card that has been blocked, deactivated or otherwise suspended without your prior notification thereof.

47. Chargeback Policy

47.1. We reserve the right to seek reimbursement from you if we receive a chargeback from any credit card issuer or with respect to any other payment method. We may obtain such reimbursement by charging your Trading Account, deducting amounts from future payments owed to you, charging your credit card or obtaining reimbursement from you by any other lawful means.

47.2. The Company reserves the right to charge a research fee of 150 Euros (one hundred fifty euros) if a chargeback is placed with the Client's Credit Card Company (either intentionally or unintentionally) for any deposit made to your account. This fee will be used to cover all investigative expenses to prove that the deposit was made by you upon receiving the chargeback from the Company's merchant provider.

47.3. Any losses resulting on the Company's behalf can be pursued in a civil lawsuit to claim back any losses incurred covering all business, legal fees, research costs, human resource and loss of income.

47.4. The Company reserves the right to deduct the disputed amount until any investigation from the Company's side is completed. You expressly agree that we shall have the right to set off the respective amounts from your Account in relation to any funds that are successfully reversed during the chargeback process.

47.5. Any chargebacks made to against the Company will be regarded as fraudulent activity if no attempt is made by the Client to help resolve any issues related to the deposit. All unnecessary chargebacks result in costs for the Company and therefore:

- a. When suspicious activity relating to any deposit is detected by the Company, the respective deposit will be placed as “Pending” and fraud detection checks will be performed during this time.
- b. Access to your account will also be temporarily prohibited in order to reduce your exposure to risk.
- c. It is at the Company’s sole discretion to close any (and all) of your accounts with the Company in such cases. Any active orders will be cancelled immediately if associated with the same fraudulent card and/or account and any profits or revenues may be seized.

48. Payments

48.1. When we execute your Transaction, the consideration for the Transaction and all applicable fees and charges for that Transaction will be deducted from your Account at the time of execution of the Transaction. Once the deduction has occurred, the amount will no longer be considered Client Money.

48.2. You shall be liable for any and all taxes, fees and assessments with respect to any Order you make on the Trading Platform. It is your obligation alone to calculate and pay all taxes applicable to you in your country of residence, or otherwise arising as a result of your activity from the use of the Trading Platform.

48.3. Notwithstanding the above, if required by applicable law, the Company shall deduct at source from any payments due to you such amounts as are required by the tax authorities to be deducted in accordance with applicable law. You hereby authorise us to withdraw amounts from your Trading Account with which to pay such taxes and you shall have no claim against us with regard to such deductions.

48.4. In situations where the Company reasonably deems platform abuse has occurred, we reserve the right to seek reimbursement from you if Orders conducted on your Account result in a recurring need for the Company to cover losses. We may obtain such reimbursement by charging your Trading Account, deducting amounts from future payments owed to you or obtaining reimbursement from you by any other lawful means.

49. Dormant Accounts

49.1. If, for a period of ninety (90) consecutive calendar days, there is no activity on a Trading Account (including deposit, withdrawal, access into the Trading Account, placing Order(s)), then the account shall be designated as ‘dormant’.

49.2. When an account becomes "dormant", it will be automatically charged an inactivity fee of $30 per each month of inactivity. Inactivity fees will be deducted from the available cash balances in the Dormant Account, following the qualifying charging period as noted above.

49.3. For avoidance of any doubt, the inactivity fee charge will be applied to those accounts that are inactive and they bear a balance. It is clarified that the inactive accounts with less than $30 will be charged the remaining account balance and therefore the account will be zeroed. Note that the accounts with zero balance won't be charged any inactivity fees.

49.4. Such inactivity fee may be applied to the Dormant Account, when it qualifies for the charging period explained above, without any notice to the Client.

49.5. If a Dormant Account becomes active during a calendar month, we will waive the inactivity fee for that particular month. The qualifying charging period will then reset.

49.6. Any remaining funds held in dormant Trading Accounts continue to be considered as Client Money, as per clause 43, and therefore their treatment continues to be subject to the same controls and procedures for the protection of Client Money applied by the Company.

49.7. Following the designation of your Trading Account as dormant, the Company may deactivate and/or close and/or archive the account(s) if the account(s) remain(s) dormant for 365 ("three hundred and sixty-five") consequential calendar days. Where practicable the Company will use reasonable efforts to give an advance notice to the Client of any deactivation. If a notice of pending deactivation and/or inactivation occurred without any notice and the Client wish to remain active and/or be reactivated, it is the Client's responsibility to contact us and notify us accordingly.

73.2. The right to cancel the Agreement does not apply on any service, the performance of which has been fully completed at the Client's request before giving the cancellation notice and/or the reception and transmission and the arrangement of execution of Orders in Securities and Foreign Exchange Services because the price of the instruments and of currencies (respectively) depends on fluctuations in the financial markets which may occur during the Cancellation Timeframe and which are outside the control of the Company. 73.8. Any Transactions executed already within the Cancellation Timeframe, including buying and selling of Securities, cannot be cancelled, because they have been fully completed with the Client's request and because the price of instruments is linked to fluctuations in the relevant underlying market, which the Company has no control of.

73.9. Any foreign exchange services provided already within the Cancellation Timeframe cannot be cancelled, because the price of currencies is linked to fluctuations in the market, which the Company has no control of and because these services have been fully completed with the Client's request.

73.10. Subject to the Company's right to be paid for services rendered, the Company shall return to the Client the available Balance in the Trading Account and shall do so as soon as possible. We will carry out such reimbursement using the same means of payment as you used for the initial payment to us or other verified payment methods. For the avoidance of any doubt, the costs, fees, commissions, charges, and applicable taxes payable to the Company for services rendered are reflected and made available to you before placing Orders in each instrument's details tab on the Trading Platform.

73.11. If the Client does not exercise the right to cancel the Agreement within the Cancellation Timeframe, the Agreement shall continue to bind both Parties and the Company shall have an obligation to offer its services hereunder.
